~ September Theme: FAITH ~

Is your faith big enough? And is it strong enough?

The size test: Most of us have faith – we trust -- in certain people. When I say “big” enough, I mean: if those people, for some reason or no reason, weren’t there for you, is there something bigger – wider, more encompassing – that you feel you could trust in? Something trust in which will sustain you through difficult times?

Cognitively, we know that the universe is one big system of interconnected parts. All the parts are changing. If I say I have faith in the system as a whole – reality in its widest sense, encompassing all things seen and unseen -- I don’t mean that I expect things to turn out well (“in the long run,” whatever that may mean). My own concepts of “well,” “better,” and “good” are products of my time, culture, and finite brain. Even if I could see the future a thousand or a million years hence, my limited concepts wouldn’t be appropriate for assessing it. Still, it feels right to affirm the process, even if I don’t know where it’s headed. Reality is unfolding in a way that somehow feels good, even when its products don’t correspond to my conception of “good.” In this sense, I have faith in the universe.

This faith I described meets the size test. It’s big enough to withstand whatever disappointments, betrayals, and losses may come my way. But it might not be strong enough. The size test is mostly cognitive: what do we tell ourselves about our own largest context of faith? Cognition is important and helpful – but limited.

The strength test. When the chips are down, we’ll need something more than cognition. We’ll also need a resilient limbic system. The limbic system generates our emotions and operates in ways often beyond conscious control. We’ll need the limbic system trained in the habits of faith: peace and an abiding capacity to sincerely love what is, whatever it is. The cognition learns quickly, but the emotions learn much more slowly. Moreover, the emotions aren’t very good at taking orders from the cognition: we will have limited success at trying to tell ourselves what to feel. Re-wiring the emotions may require therapy, and, in some cases (though probably not as many as we are often led to believe), may even need the assistance of prescription medications. One thing that helps all of us – whether we also go in for therapy or not – is spiritual practice. The daily exercising of faith strengthens the neurons that can’t be reached by rational thought.

Yours in faith, Meredith

The 2014-2015

Theme Based Ministry:

Each monthly theme plays a part in the development of a well-grounded religious and spiritual life. The church's offerings each month are by no means limited to the themes. However, these topics provide an axis around which many elements of church life gain more meaning and depth. The themes provide us with a set of common stories and ideas that become elements of an ongoing community conversation. The purpose is to engage and empower CUC and its members to think theologically and live our ministry and calling both at home and in the wider world -- thereby also strengthening the Unitarian Universalist network of congregations so engaged and empowered. These themes are followed in the journey groups.

Sep: Faith

Oct: Death

Nov: Forgiveness

Dec: Hope

Jan: Justice

Feb: Love

Mar: Brokenness

Apr: Transformation/Resurrection

May: Transcendence

Jun: Presence/Mindfulness

"Life is a journey, not a destination."

Journey Groups are forming now...

The core purpose of Journey Groups is to create formative space for individuals. This is a space of acceptance and safety in which group members can explore their deepest values and inner voice without judgment or coercion.

Groups will meet each month to discuss monthly themes. There are a variety of group meeting times and locations to choose from. Contact church administrator Lilliana Keith to sign up for a group.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

From the Chair's Chair

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the Fall at CUC. For those of you who have taken time off this summer or who have been away, welcome back! Although it may have seemed quiet over the summer many important activities were going on behind the scenes. Walk up our beautiful new front steps, and take a look at the new sidewalk and new handicap ramp as you go. And although you may not detect any changes on the roof, long-awaited repairs have been done there as well. Just a few more details such as the ceiling repair in the front office and in the kitchen, and our physical "re-"construction will be complete. Please give a hearty thank you to Chair and former Chair of our Buildings and Grounds Committee, Tim Lynch and Ted Kuczinski, whose hard work and diligent supervision saw these projects through! And thanks to Liliana Keith for keeping an eye on the job, and assisting with the interface with the workers.

Beyond the physical changes at CUC your Board, Minister, and RE Director have been hard at work planning new directions and activities for the Fall. The Board had its annual Retreat in August, focusing its main discussion on ways to grow our membership. No one will be surprised to hear that an increasingly important tool for us will be the internet. Our newly formed and enthusiastic social media/tech committee will continue to improve and enhance the CUC Website, adding links to social media, and improving graphics and ease of use.

Growth of our community can also be measured in the strengthening of our community from within. To that end I am looking forward to the launch of the new Journey Groups in September. If you have not had a chance to sign up for one, please do so by the link on our website, or if you are not an internet user you can call Liliana to give your preferences for time and location, or sign up in person on a Sunday. Each Journey group is targeted to have 6-12 members, and will meet once a month. Discussions will focus on themes that are brought up in Sunday services. The Journey Group facilitators will have met with Meredith each month to prepare for the month's meeting. Although some might think it a burden to have one more meeting to add to our busy lives, I believe it will turn out to be a wonderful way to bring our community closer together, and to "nurture each other in our spiritual journeys."

Also for the Fall will be the opportunity to get involved in planning a Social Action strategy for CUC for the year. Look for announcements for circle discussions at the end of service such as we had when creating our mission statement last year. A small committee is being formed to get this ball rolling. See also Karen Dreher's comments in this issue of the communitarian about considering a name change for CUC. Lots of interesting and engaging activities coming up for everyone. So get involved, get engaged, participate, and let us know what you are thinking. See you soon!

*Yours in community,
Randy Marshall, Board Chair*

“Community Unitarian Church at White Plains”

What's In a Name, You Ask?

My husband and I have been active members of Community Unitarian Church since 1992. We came here seeking a universal spiritual home for ourselves and our two daughters and have always felt we were in the right place, however, we have both struggled for years with the word "church." It never seemed to represent our religious home at all. A church, after all, is defined by Merriam-Webster as "a building that is used for Christian religious services." It just never seemed to correctly identify CUC. I always felt I had to keep my feelings about that a secret, and then, a few years ago, I gradually discovered that many others felt the same way I do! Then I began to wonder how many young families out there are not coming to see what we have to offer here at CUC because they see the word "church" and they assume we are Christian.

This is an exciting time for change and growth for CUC. So I ask all of you to give this serious consideration: are we ready to make a change and identify ourselves by a name that represents who we have become and who we are today vs. a name that may represent a CUC in days gone by? What that change will look like will ultimately be up to you but it would mean selecting a name other than church, such as congregation or society and perhaps including that second U in our name, and calling ourselves Unitarian Universalists as well.

This is a great opportunity for us to show the community we are who we say we are, not just in deed but in name as well. I hope you will give it some thought and I look forward to starting these discussions with the congregation in the fall.

Karen Dreher

Buildings and Grounds: Things seen, unseen, and yet to be seen

Last winter was especially brutal and the church suffered several major events from which we are almost recovered. The harsh winter also caused serious deterioration to the steps and the wheelchair access ramp in the front of the church.

Some upgrades that started in late spring and continue to date:

- The stairs from the lower parking lot were repaired to prevent any further weather damage.
- Existing flagstone steps in front of the church were demolished and replaced with concrete steps similar to those in front of the RE entrance. The prior steps required continuous maintenance and the new concrete step should last many years and require only minor attention.
- The sidewalk running along the parking lot between the two entrances has been replaced for safety reasons.
- The wheelchair access ramp has been replaced with pressure treated wood and repainted.
- Not seen is the repair to the flat roof over the hallway, kitchen, and office which had been leaking for several years. The sheathing was replaced with 1/2" plywood and a new membrane now covers the roof area.
- A gutter above the kitchen window looking out to the patio was installed and a new drain added to remove water from the roof faster.
- Also not seen is that the broken sprinkler pipe was repaired and insulation added in the ceiling above to prevent it from freezing again.
- Yet to be seen are the repairs to the ceilings. We are negotiating these repairs and hope to have them complete by the end of September.

RE September Sundays in the Sanctuary

Children and youth will begin each of the four Sundays in September in the sanctuary. Children's Worship in Fellowship Hall will begin on the second Sunday in October. Here are the happenings:

9/7 Water Service for All Ages - Our ingathering includes the ritual of sharing water from our summer journeys and the feelings they created. Children and youth will stay in the sanctuary for the entire service and there is opportunity for participation.

9/14 Before the first day of classes begins, the congregation will covenant with the teachers and give a blessing of support. The children and youth will continue the tradition of carrying their class chalices out of the sanctuary as they go to their classrooms.

9/21 Perry will be leading the service that day and there will be a Story for All Ages. Be sure to arrive for the beginning of the service at 10am when the children and youth are invited to gather around the piano for Music for All Ages with Adam. As children experience the fun and wonder of worship in the sanctuary, they build a connection to our community.

9/28 Rev. Meredith and Perry will be conducting a Child Dedication. The children and youth will be present to covenant to care for each child being dedicated. If you would like your child to be dedicated, please contact Perry.

Starting in October, children and youth will begin in the sanctuary on the first Sunday of each month and process to their classes after the Story for All Ages. Music for All Ages with Adam will begin promptly at 10am on those Sundays. Unless there is a multigenerational service, children begin in Fellowship Hall for Children's Worship on all other Sundays of the month.

Perry's Ponderings

A bouquet of pipe cleaner heart flowers is displayed on my desk. It is one of the sacred objects that reminds me of the meaning of being a religious educator. The pipe cleaner bouquet was handed to me by a little girl during an RE Sunday worship service. Those heart-shaped “flowers” speak to the connections we make in congregational life that are truly the heart of the matter. I begin my first year at Community Unitarian Church with the wonderful anticipation of getting to know a community of special people and walking together on a journey of exploration, wonder, and discovery.

Those multi-colored heart flowers on my desk represent the diverse group of people that make up our community, each with their own backgrounds, ideas, perspectives, passions, and talents. When we bring our diversity together with similar values, we create amazingly vibrant opportunities. I look forward to supportively empowering what each of you brings to CUC, so you are able to share your essential self and be nurtured in return.

The Religious Education Council held a retreat over the summer to vision new ways of creating dynamic programs for children, youth, and adults. As we laid out all that happens in RE, it was apparent why this small group has felt their plates overflowing at times. The process of looking at what we do in RE was described as dumping the puzzle pieces out on the table. Once we saw it all with fresh eyes, we endeavored to put the puzzle together.

I presented the Council with a structure that I developed in my previous congregations to create greater capacity. We decided to move forward with this model that provides many bite-size roles for involvement. We are creating six RE Support Teams (REST) that focus on a particular area of the Religious Education Ministry:

- Adult REST - developing spiritual practice offerings and learning opportunities for adults
- Connections REST - connecting RE families and creating intergenerational links
- Justice REST - fostering social justice activities in RE and for families to do together
- Teaching REST - supporting teachers and choosing curricula
- Worship REST - augmenting Children’s Worship and multigenerational services
- Youth REST - enhancing Coming of Age, further developing the opportunities for high school youth, and building a stronger bridge from one to the other.

Each RE Support Teams offers clear manageable roles for engagement in RE for all ages. These teams allow for a more efficient structure to support RE and open up paths for faith development. Your participation actually becomes part of your personal spiritual journey in CUC community. By joining an RE Support Team in your area of interest, you enhance your experience of growth and discovery. Please contact me to add your “heart flower” to our bouquet.

EVENTS...

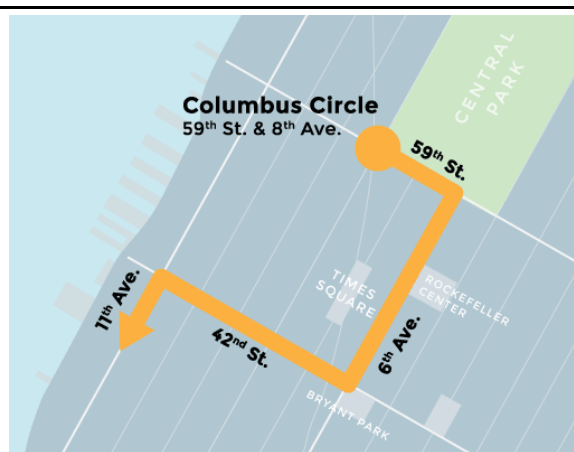

Our Witness: People's Climate March on September 21, 2014

Mark your calendars for the largest climate march in history! Thousands of Unitarian Universalists (UUs), including UUA President Rev. Peter Morales, will descend on New York City for the People's Climate March on September 21, marching alongside world leaders, praying with people of many faiths, and witnessing for climate justice. Join the UU contingent directly: <http://www.meetup.com/UU-Justice-Web-Metro-NY/events/193519382/> or email Mary Cavallero at marycava4@gmail.com who will keep you posted on CUCers traveling together. We will be taking Metro North into NYC (meeting time in Grand Central to be arranged when we know more details).

•*Saturday, 10pm: Raucous but Reverent: Interfaith Young Adult Worship Service with Tim DeChristopher at Fourth Universalist Society, 160 Central Park West. All welcome.

•*Sunday morning: Religions of the Earth Interfaith Worship near Central Park featuring UUA President Rev. Peter Morales. Immediately following the service, UUs will gather in the Park to march together. Details to follow.

•*Sunday late morning: People's Climate March! "The largest climate march in history will leave from Central Park following the service."

•*Sunday 3:30-5:30pm: Unitarian Universalists Unite: Debrief at Community Church of New York, UU, 40 East 35th St.

•*Sunday, 6pm: Prayer Service at Cathedral of Saint John the Divine, 1047 Amsterdam Ave. This public multifaith celebration will include government officials, activists, scientists and artists, and will be held in conjunction with the World Council of Churches and Religions for Peace as well as other institutional partners in building momentum for a decisive U.N. Climate Summit.

As CUC begins to turn its attention to becoming a renewed presence in the public sphere, it'll add to our impact to be instantly recognizable. The yellow "Standing on the Side of Love" (SSL) T-shirts have become the unofficial uniform of Unitarians engaged in social justice. Order yours today so you'll be ready to stand together, on the side of love, with other UUs at public witness events - including the upcoming Peoples Climate March in New York City on September 21st.

Share the Plate

For the month of September, twenty-five percent of the Sunday offering (not counting checks specifically marked "pledge") will be donated to:

SHORE—Sheltering the Homeless is Our Responsibility.

SHORE “an all-volunteer, interfaith, not-for-profit housing organization in central Westchester County, NY, began in 1985 when a half-dozen churches and temples joined forces and opened their doors to provide overnight shelter for nineteen single, homeless adults. In the years since, SHORE has expanded its mission to include other housing-related programs, primarily permanent, affordable rental homes for homeless families. “

For more information visit: shelteringthehomeless.org.

Musicians' Group Sunday, September 21st

The UU Musicians' Group will convene at 11:45 am in the Sanctuary with Music Director Adam Kent.

Anyone, any age, who plays a musical instrument or sings is welcome to join. Music is a spiritual practice and discipline, and our newly formed group seeks to extend the ministry of music to as many of our parishioners as possible. Chances to perform for a supportive circle of fellow musicians, opportunities to form collaborations, and intergenerational shared experiences are among the benefits of participating in this activity. The CUC community as a whole also stands to gain from a wider range of congregants willing to assist with our musical programming. Please contact Music Director Adam Kent with questions and consider joining this monthly activity!

“Inside the Music”, Adam Kent’s forum on music, will also return later this fall. Stay tuned for updates!

CAN YOU SMILE AND SAY GOOD MORNING?

If you can answer “yes” to the question above, we need you to greet at least one Sunday during this church year.

At CUC we are a welcoming community. We want to invite everybody in and help them to feel comfortable—that begins when they walk up to our doors. So please check your calendars and pick one or more Sundays when you can join us to greet at 9:45, before services.

Please see options and sign up directly at:

<http://doodle.com/z7fpg5ri858wn98x>

Or email or call Jane Dixon (Welcome Committee chair) at jrdixon@optonline.net or 914-949-5919.

Caring & Sharing...

If anyone knows of another among us who is in need of a caregiver from our Caring & Sharing Circle, throughout September contact Carole Mehta at carole.mehta@gmail.com or 234-6294 or Liz Laite em.laite@verizon.net or 366-4211.

CHOIR NEWS

Join the CUC Choir this Fall

Rehearsals

The choir rehearses Tuesdays from 7:30-9:15pm, and sings just two services each month. We also perform two concerts as a part of the Music at CUC concert series. We welcome all voice parts, and you DO NOT have to be able to read music. The choir is currently made up of a mix of people that read music and those who do not. The only requirement is to be able to match pitch.

Open House

For those that may wish to experience what we are all about, we will be holding a Choir Open House on Sunday, Sept. 28 following the morning service from 11:45am to 12:45pm. This is a great way to see what it is like to work with me, the other members, and to enjoy some music and special fellowship. So please attend and check us out – there is no obligation, just sing and have some fun.

December Concert: Amahl & The Night Visitors

This December 21 at 1:30pm we will be giving a semi-staged performance of the 50 minute opera for children, “Amahl and the Night Visitors” by Gian Carlo Menotti. We need people for the chorus, and will be holding auditions for the six principle roles on September 21st. If you are interested in learning more about the opera, you can view the original 1950s television broadcast at YouTube at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Hzx-s46vjpY>. This is a Christmas miracle story that has a wonderful lesson and meaning that has been enjoyed by people of all ages and backgrounds. I also have music that I can send by email or regular mail if you wish to look at it in advance, just contact me at the information listed below. It will be a fun and satisfying experience for the participants and the audience.

All are welcome to observe or participate in a Tuesday night rehearsal at any time. Please contact me with any questions at choir@cucwp.org or at 516-299-2475 during the day and 347-278-3187 after 7pm and on weekends. I look forward to an exciting fall and hope that you will be inspired to sing with us.

Just 1 Question

It is easy to do! Simply walk into your favorite restaurant, salon, shop, coffee shop, golf course or other merchant and ask:

“Would you be willing to make a donation to support a very worthy cause?”

Merchants are happy to support their regular customers and to receive the free promotion we give them at the auction.

For more information and to get a formal letter requesting the donation, contact Ann Marie Damashek at scottam@verizon.net.

The Auction is our biggest fundraiser of the year.
We need everyone's help to make it a success.
Even if you cannot come to the auction, you can help.
All you need to do is ask Just 1 Question.

Social Media

CUC is on Facebook!
TWICE IN FACT—

1. If you haven't done so yet, be sure to "like" the new Facebook page, "Community Unitarian Church." Be sure to select "Get notifications," and "All updates."
2. There is a private location also for CUC. This is an in-house group where the CUC community can engage in non-public discussions about CUC-related topics or even post about things in need (ex. referrals for services). The idea for this came from a recent Social Media Committee meeting, where we determined CUC has two uses for our Facebook presence: One external (the CUC FB page) and one internal (this private group). The goal is to allow community-building, sharing and communication. Only those in the group can see who's in it and what's posted, and you can feel free to add people. We want this to be a safe place for CUC congregants to share ideas and connect.

UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST ASSOCIATION(UUA) ~ DENOMINATIONAL AFFAIRS

Notes from General Assembly (GA) -

Congregational Study/Action Issues (CSAI)

This year the delegates voted for the CSAI – Escalating Inequality – There were many important positions supporting this CSAI – You can view the session where delegates voted and hear delegates support the issue on the UUA website. <http://uua.org/ga/virtual/2014/business/iv/296128.shtml>

The statement will be a work in progress during the next 3 years but Denice will include the issue's grounding in Unitarian Universalism from the UUA website - "Our Unitarian Universalist (UU) tradition places its faith in people to create a more loving community for all, guided by justice, equity, and compassion in human relations."

Challenging extreme inequality has now become a moral imperative, just as prior generations have led movements from abolition to civil rights and marriage equality." To read more of the current statement <http://www.uua.org/statements/current/290506.shtml>
